DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(4) because reference character "7" has been used to designate both the circuit breaker and the tank in Figure 2. The specification suggests that the circuit breaker should read as a 1. Please correct. A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Okuno (US PN 4810840).

Regarding claims 1-4:

Okuno discloses a circuit breaker with two bushings 3 having gas insulating 17, combining current transformers for detecting and measuring current through conductor line 4, and a capacitor 19 combined with the circuit breaker for measuring voltage of main terminal 16, and disconnect or interrupter elements 9,12,11; see 2:5-10,3:5-10,3:17-20,4:3-8,3:52-60.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made

5. Claims 14-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Okuno and in view of Roberts et al (US PN 6256592).

Regarding claims 14-17:

Okuno discloses a circuit breaker with bushings incorporating sensors for current and voltage measurement, but does not disclose fault location.

Roberts et al disclose a measurement method of fault location by utilizing measurements from sensors at both ends of a line to make fault location determinations, see 2:22-30.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified Okuno with the teachings of Roberts et al to improve the accuracy and provide the results in real time.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 5-13 are allowed.

Art Unit: 2836

7. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The above claims are allowed because the prior art of record fails to disclose or suggest the following:

Regarding claims 5-7; the claimed combination which includes a sensor portion of a device disposed inside the porcelain tube for measuring current or voltage and an electric field relaxation device.

Regarding claims 8-12; the claimed combination which further includes a current transformer within the bushing and an electric field relaxation member disposed facing the outer-periphery side of the current-carrying conductor.

Regarding claim 13; the claimed combination which further includes a voltage divider disposed on the inner-periphery side of an electric field relaxation member.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
